

NotePad++: Downloading & Installing

1. Go to <http://notepad-plus-plus.org/download/v5.9.3.html>. At the top of the page, it lists the current version and its release date. Click the “Installer” link. At the time of writing this document, the exact link to download NotePad++, version 5.9.3 is:
<http://notepad-plus-plus.org/download/v5.9.3.html>
2. You will then be prompted to save the file. For ease of installation, save the file to your desktop.
3. Locate the file on your desktop and double-click it to launch the installation.
4. Choose “English” as the language and then hit “Okay.” If you want another language, that is your option.
5. Click “Next” at the Welcome Screen.
6. Click “I Agree” on the License Agreement screen.
7. Now you are at the Choose Install Location screen. There is no need to change anything here. Simply click “Next”.
8. Now you are at the “Choose Components” screen. Simply click “Next”.
9. You are now at the last screen. If you want a shortcut on your desktop, check that appropriate box.
10. Finally, click “Install”.

NotePad++ should now be installed on your computer. You should use this program for writing your HTML, XHTML, and CSS code.
